CED Gujarat associates with Marwadi University for integration of its Entrepreneurship Development Program in BBA and BBA Honors curriculum

CED has been associated with more than 60 educational institutes across Gujarat by setting up an Entrepreneurship Development Cell (ED Cell). These ED cells are very active in organizing various entrepreneurship events for their students. CED entrepreneurial programs are conducted in these cells by experts specialized in their area of expertise.

One such institute is Marwadi University in Rajkot where ED Cell has been functional. On getting a good response, CED has further collaborated through MoU for integration of CED's Entrepreneurship Development Program Module II in the curriculum of BBA and BBA Honors.

The sessions are being conducted by the registered faculty members of CED. CED helps these young minds understand entrepreneurship and guides them on starting, developing and growing a business.
